Care for Creation. Care for the Poor.

5 Ways Your Home In Parish Can Make a Difference: Calculate your carbon footprint: Understanding which of your activities are carbon-intensive allows your parish to know where it can take action. To help, use EPA's free carbon footprint calculator. Consider energy efficiency: Research if you'd qualify for tax rebates or other special programs to help retrofit your buildings to be more energy efficient. Turn off your office: Put your office appliances (computers, printers, etc.) on a power strip and turn it off at night. Switch to low-flow faucets and toilets, and to energy efficient lightbulbs: Water processing accounts for approximately 3% of energy use in the United States, and electricity generation accounts for approximately 39%, according to the EPA. Saving water and electricity means saving energy. Adjust the thermostat: Turning down the church's and the rectory's air conditioning or heating will further reduce your parish's energy consumption. This is probably one of your parish's most carbon-intensive activities, but a change of just 5 degrees is a great start.
